

WWII Simulation: Allies

September 29, 1940

Dear delegates,

As you have undoubtedly heard, Germany, Italy and Japan signed the so-called Tripartite Pact in Berlin this past Friday. Your respective home governments are understandably concerned about the implications that this event may have on the ongoing war and security of the globe. After much discussion, a cabinet of leading military generals and governors has been assembled to coordinate the war effort. This cabinet will convene in the American city of San Francisco on October 1st.

To brief you for the upcoming cabinet meeting, I have prepared a document summarizing the current state of affairs in all of your respective countries as well as personal introductions that each of you have prepared so that you may become more familiar with the composition of the cabinet and background of its members. You should have received an e-mail from me containing both a copy of the background guide and the password needed to view the copy posted on the website. Please e-mail me at your earliest convenience if you did not receive this information.

I am confident that the aggregate power of this cabinet can thwart the intentions of the Axis powers if properly exercised. I look forward to seeing you in San Francisco in two days! As always, please let me know if you have any questions, comments or concerns regarding the committee.

Regards,

Matthew Atkins
